Ironies About the Blood of Christ

The blood that cost His life means life for me.

The blood that brought Him pain in shedding it brings me eternal peace.

The blood loss that surely caused him sickness and fever heals my sin-sick soul.

The blood that was lost to Him is gain to me.

The blood that was hard to see on that day is a beautiful sight for my eye of faith today.

The blood that was shed in wrath by man reconciles man to God.

The blood that poured out from His wound binds up my wounded soul.

The blood that was shed to His shame brings me the highest possible place of honor.

The blood that came from an unblemished, perfect sacrifice is essential to cover my blemishes and imperfections.

The blood from the Son of God makes me a child of God. -Neal Pollard, Denver, Colorado.
